VIENNA

MAJOR SIGHTS AND HOW TO GET THERE

Historic Centre of Vienna

Quoting from the document which made the Historic Centre of Vienna a UNESCO World Heritage Site: "The urban and architectural qualities ... bear outstanding witness to a continuing interchange of values throughout the second millennium. Three key periods of European cultural and political development - the Middle Ages, the Baroque period, and the Gründerzeit - are exceptionally well illustrated." In other words: Vienna's city centre is a lively mixture of the best.

The quickest way from our venue to the city centre:
Take the U3 underground line (direction Ottakring) from Enkplatz underground station - and get off at Stephansplatz underground station. It takes you 11 mins.

Zentralfriedhof

You will never get closer to Beethoven, Schubert, Brahms, the Strauss family and other personalities from Vienna's past. The Zentralfriedhof with its impressive Jugendstil cemetery church is one of Europe's largest graveyards and linked to the city's sometimes morbid side, as the wicked saying goes: "In Vienna, you have to die first before they celebrate your life".

From our venue it's only a 10 min tram ride to Zentralfriedhof:
Take the 6 tram line (direction Zentralfriedhof 2. Tor) or the 71 tram line (direction Zentralfriedhof 3. Tor) - both depart at Enkplatz underground station - and get off at Zentralfriedhof 2. Tor at the cemetery's main entrance.

TOP OF THE TAPS: THE VIENNESE WATER

Simply turn on the tap and enjoy mountain spring water? It's possible in Vienna. Vienna's water flows from the mountain springs in the Styrian and Lower Austrian Alps, reaching the Austrian capital city 36 hours later, without pumps and under the strictest regulations. A positive side-effect of this is that on its way to the city, the water flows through hydroelectric power stations, which generates 65 million kilowatt hours of power, or enough for a small town. In 2001, Vienna was even the first city in the world to place the „White Gold“ under the protection of its constitution.

The Viennese are very proud of their tap water and so are we: This year, instead of a T-shirt you will get a reusable water bottle as a little souvenir of your time in Vienna. This not only makes it possible to enjoy the mountain spring water anytime and anywhere, it also helps to keep laptops and other devices safe from water glass incidents on the hacking tables. Just remember to mark your bottle with one of the name tags we provide, so you will always find your personal bottle again :-)

HOW TO GET AROUND

Exploring our city is convenient and safe: Vienna is one of the safest metropolitan areas worldwide and its public transport stands out due to high accessibility standards.

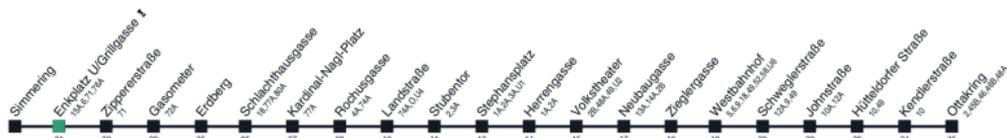

U3 U-Bahn (underground) line will be your line! On the nights before Saturday and Sunday, the underground runs all night long.

Enkplatz station is your station - take exit Grillgasse.

Purchase your public transport ticket at the ticket machine at the entrance to the U-Bahn. One way tickets cost 2,20€, 24-hours tickets cost 7,60€.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Thursday: OPEN DATA MEET-UP

Starting at 5 pm

The Viennese open data community dedicated their monthly meet-up to the MediaWiki Hackathon and invites you to Metalab - a non-profit hacker and maker space in Vienna's first district.

Address: Rathausstraße 6, 1010 Wien

How to get there: Take the U3 underground line (direction Ottakring) to Volkstheater underground station.

From here it is a 10 minutes walk or you change to Tram 2 (direction Wien Ottakringer Straße/Erdbrustgasse) and get off at Wien Rathaus station.

Friday: PIZZA AND KARAOKE

Starting at 8 pm

Sing with us at the hotel!

Saturday: HACKATHON PARTY

Starting at 9 pm

We'd like to take you out to a party! We've booked a venue exclusively for Hackathon attendees in one of Vienna's nicest event locations, the Arena Wien, which is conveniently close to the hackathon venue.

Address: Baumgasse 80, 1030 Wien

How to get there: It's a 20 mins walk or take the U3 underground line (direction Ottakring) from Enkplatz underground station to Erdberg underground station. The Vienna underground runs all night long.

Your name badge will allow you to enter the party location - don't forget it! Bring your voucher for a free drink!
